THE SMALL-CAP OPPORTUNITY

Increasing inefficiency in small-cap markets due to passive super-cycle, declining coverage and short-termism intersect with new and misunderstood business models and management teams with an appetite for engagement.

PHILOSOPHY

We are growth investors. We seek superior returns through holding a highly concentrated portfolio of companies that we believe have advantaged business models and opportunities to generate consistent, long-term growth of intrinsic business value.

APPROACH

Search for Change

Qualitative change not captured by quantitative screens
Large opportunities in under-penetrated markets

Verify Business Quality

Secular tailwinds, contrarian opportunities
Improving returns on invested capital
Strengthening Porter's Five Forces

Determine Source of Edge

Detailed forecasting and cost of capital analysis
Discount to intrinsic business value assessment
Consultative opportunity to add value

The Composite invests in small-cap common stocks of growth-oriented companies for which the Firm believes have long-term capital appreciation potential and may grow faster than the U.S. economy. The Composite's portfolio has a concentrated portfolio of equities and will seek to contain approximately 10-15 securities. This Composite was created and inceptioned in July 2020. The Composite includes all discretionary, fee paying accounts, including pooled funds, managed in this strategy. Performance results are shown as total returns, net of dividend withholding taxes, assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, are presented before and after the deduction of investment advisory fees, and are calculated in U.S. dollars. The returns of some accounts in the Composite may include income from securities lending. Net returns are calculated using a model base fee and an actual incentive fee, accrued monthly. The current fee schedule for the strategy is as follows: all assets, 1.00% and subject to an incentive fee. The incentive fee is 20% of the excess return of a client's account over the Russell 2000 Growth Index. Actual advisory fees can vary among clients employing this fund and may be lower than model investment advisory fees. Policies for valuing investments, calculating performance and preparing GIPS Reports are available upon request. A list of composite descriptions is available upon request. Past performance is not an indicator of future results. Internal dispersion is calculated using the asset-weighted standard deviation of the annual returns of all the portfolios that were included in the Composite for the entire year. Internal dispersion is only shown if the Composite has at least six accounts that were managed for the full calendar year. All risk measures presented are calculated using gross-of-fees returns.

The three-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the Composite and the benchmark over the preceding 36-month period. This measure is not required to be presented when 36 monthly composite returns are not yet available.

The benchmark for the Composite is the Russell 2000® Growth Index. The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of the small-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 2000® companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. For comparison purposes, the index is fully invested and includes the reinvestment of income. Index returns do not reflect management fees, transaction costs, or expenses. Indices are unmanaged, and one cannot invest directly in an index. Benchmark information contained herein has been obtained from third party sources believed to be reliable, but we cannot guarantee its accuracy or completeness.
